Synopsis:

In this superlative mystery comedy, statuettes of little soldier boys on the mantel of a house on an island off the coast of Devon fall to the floor and break one by one as those in the house succumb to a diabolical avenger. A nursery rhyme tells how each of the ten "soldiers" met his death until there were none. Eight guests who have never met each other or their apparently absent host and hostess are lured to the island and, along with the two house servants, marooned. A mysterious voice accuses each of having gotten away with murder and then one drops dead—poisoned. One down and nine to go. . .the excitement never lets up!

Cast Information:

All roles are open — age ranges: 20s to 60s

- Judge Wargrave. . .Male, 40s to 60s — Highly intelligent; moves slowly, so he observes EVERYTHING; carries an ornate walking stick.
- Vera Claythorne. . .Female, 20s to 40s — Newly hired secretary; anxious to please; efficient but shy, not very worldly.
- Philip Lombard. . .Male, 30s to 40s — formerly an Army captain, now a soldier of fortune; capable; does not scare; finds this situation fraught with possibilities.
- William Henry Blore. . .Male, 40 to 60 — Private Investigator; not as smart as he thinks; always hungry; suspects everybody of everything.
- Emily Brent. . .Female, 40-60 — Spinster; judgmental and humorless; lays awake at night worrying other people are having a good time.
- Dr. Armstrong. . .Male OR Female, 40s to 50s — Respected doctor; very elegant; soft spoken, but rattles easily.
- General John MacArthur. . .Male, 60S and up — Retired military man; the very model of a modern major general; elderly, his attention wavers.
- Thomas Rogers. . .Male, 30s to 60s — The obligatory butler; lives to serve; very proper.
- Ethel Rogers. . .Female, 30s to 50s — Cook/housekeeper and none too happy about it; bullies her husband.
- Phyllis Marston. . .Female, 20s to 40s — Beautiful, flirtatious, boisterous; the polar opposite of Vera; loves a good party.
- Fred Narracott. . .Male, 40s — Ferry Captain; good humored; like any respectable sailor, likes a nip now and then.
- Mr. Owen. . .Male, any age — a disembodied voice; judge, jury & executioner; a cross between Vincent Price & Satan.
